

MARCH EDITORIAL: Racial Equity in Schools

The March issue of School Administrator provides readers with the wisdom of educators who pursue the goal of removing implicit bias in school decisions.

Advertise in the publication that superintendents look to for wisdom, practical advice and insight.

Facetime you gain with 20,000 superintendents and district-level leaders when you advertise monthly.

 89% of School Administrator readers are involved in district purchases*

 92% of school district decisions/purchased take place in district offices, led by superintendents*

Email Kathy Sveen. Ask about our opportunities. I can help! Magazine, website, video, and banner ads, e-blast, e-newsletter, sponsored content & cover pages and much more!

Ad Deadline: Jan. 8

Equity Warriors: How One North Carolina District Is Challenging the Status Quo in Education

Top education leaders in Guilford County Schools in North Carolina describe what made them become equity warriors that took systemwide measures to improve inequities.

Examining Systems and Self for Racial Equity

What form of professional learning can help eliminate the internalized, unconscious biases that fester in K-12 schooling?

Aim for Excellence: Achieving Equity through High Expectations

No one ever rose to low expectations notes the superintendent of Selma, Ala., in her short piece. To transform one of the poorest districts she is steadfast on the “must haves.”

Racial Equity Through Curricular Reform

Why have racial inequities persisted? This provocative article argues that the answer has less to do with our individual failings, and more to do with a curriculum that sugarcoats our greatest moral failings

Contact Kathy Sveen TODAY at ksveen@smithbucklin.com. She can create a program to stretch your budget and meet your specific needs. School Administrator magazine is published by AASA, The School Superintendents Association.