

AUGUST SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR

THEME: Maximizing Education Dollars — Hot Topic with Infusion of Federal Funds

Superintendents are facing financial issues they've never seen before. Why? New legislation — the American Rescue Plan — requires that districts track how those funds are spent to ensure an equitable distribution.

The August issue includes national experts on the American Rescue Plan with timely and practical information. Highlights include:

>Using Evidence on Cost-Effectiveness

The influx of federal dollars through the American Rescue Plan warrants careful attention by district leaders to higher-value investments. This article is a must-read for superintendents with practical advice.

>Wise Spending of Your Federal Relief Funds

Who decides how to spend the money generated by the American Rescue Plan? Districts do, and it's a huge responsibility. Education leaders are facing financial conditions they'd never before seen.

>On Brink of Bankruptcy, Miami-Dade District Prioritized Classroom Spending

The Miami-Dade financial officer recalls August 2008, when financial reserves had dwindled the school's district's fund balance of $4.6 million. He shares three guidelines to regain financial health.

>One District's Path: Turnaround or Takeover
